The 3rd annual UT Energy Forum is a student-led conference bringing together leading minds to explore today's most pressing energy challenges. The forum is soliciting abstracts from students conducting energy-related research to compete in our first annual research competition. Take advantage of this opportunity to present your research to an audience of academics, politicians and industry leaders and win cash prizes.

All disciplines welcome (Engineering, Science, and Social Science). Entrants must be a student (Undergrad, Grad, Ph.D). Send questions to research@utenergyforum.com

WILL YOU ADD YOUR RESEARCH TO THE CONVERSATION?
